CLASSMATES: In presenting his third Report your Secretary returns his thanks for the unusual promptness with which his requests for information have been answered. Never before has such general interest been shown in all that pertains to Class matters. Classmates who have not been heard from since graduation have this year written to the Secretary, and very few have wholly neglected the official summons.

We have parted with two of our number since the date of the last Report. JOHN RICHARD DENNETT, our Class Poet, died at Westborough, November 6, 1874; and HENRY HORTON MCBURNEY, our chief-marshal and the stroke-oar of our Class boat, died at Bournemouth, England, February 20, 1875. You will at this meeting express, as classmates, your appreciation of their worth and sorrow at their loss. Their completed histories will be added to the Class Records, and their memories will be cherished by every member of the Class of '62.

As our number lessens year by year, the interest in Class matters grows stronger, and classmates have asked for the preservation in more permanent form of some of our unprinted records. The reports of our Senior Class Meeting and our Senior Class Supper have been printed here, and an account of our Class Day and Commencement Exercises would have been added but for the desire to keep the pages limited. Another Report may properly contain these and more, if classmates will assist. Would it not be worth while to save, before it is too late, all the little matters of the history of the four years we spent together at Harvard? Of the entrance examinations, which we struggled through before some students now in college were born; of the Freshman Foot-Ball Game; of the old Chapel in University, and our removal to the new Appleton Chapel; of the building of the Gymnasium; the Class and College Regattas; the Inauguration of President Felton, and his death; the garrison of the Arsenal; our college scrapes, exhibitions, mock-parts, and graduation, — all matters in which the Class of '62 pars plerumque tota fuit we have only our wearing memories to remind us. Let each one, as soon as he receives this Report, write to the Secretary what he remembers of each or any of these things, and in the next Report we may have a chapter of our history, which every year will make more interesting, and the constant and rapid changes of our University make more strange.

Although, in deference to common custom, the Secretary has remodelled and condensed the letters sent to him, this is certainly not the best course, for the Report does not at all preserve the flavor of the individual character: in future the lives will be printed, where possible, in the first person and in the words of the writer. Thanks are due to Fay, Nichols, Soule, and others, for assistance in this Report.

WM. T. BRIGHAM, Secretary.

CLASS RECORD.

June 26, 1872. Holworthy 5. Brother J. Read in the Chair. Brothers Barrett, Bartlett, Beard, Brackett, Brigham, Fay, Fiske, Goss, Hedge, Hosmer, F. W. Huidekoper, Keegan, Kidder, McCarthy, Nichols, J. Read, Sawtell, Soule, Stoddard, Tarbell, Tilton, and Tucke (22) were present during the day. The Report of the last meeting was read and accepted, and the Secretary presented his printed Report, which was accepted, and it was Voted, That the warm thanks of the Class are due to our active and efficient Secretary, Wm. T. Brigham, for his care and labor in compiling the Class Record. It was also Voted, That if any balance be due on the cost of the Report, it be paid from the income of the Class Fund.

The Secretary presented the following resolves on announcing the death of Brother Ensign : —

In our sorrow at the loss of another classmate who has died in a foreign land,

Resolved, That we offer our tribute of respect for the memory of our classmate, EDWARD ELI ENSIGN, recalling, as we meet together, his many virtues. Always quiet, and always ready with a kind grasp and cheerful word for every classmate ; distinguished as a scholar, and yet wholly unassuming ; pure and strict in his own conduct, and yet tolerant of the opinions of others, his early death will be deplored by all who knew him. While we would gather for ourselves the lesson of his blameless life and patience under suffering, we would offer to his bereaved family our respectful sympathy.

These were adopted, and the meeting adjourned.

June 25, 1873. Holworthy 13. As the usual room could not be obtained, Mr. R. H. Dana, of the Class of 1874, kindly offered his room for the Class Meeting. Brother Stoddard presided. Present, Brothers Barrett, Beard, Brigham, Fiske, Folsom, Grinnell, Hedge, Mifflin, Nichols, Porter, Read, H. M. Rogers, Sawtell, Sibley, Stoddard, Tarbell, Tilton, and Washburn (18). The Secretary presented his report, which was accepted, and he announced a contribution of fifty dollars to the "Fire Fund of the College," from Mr. Charles Hickling, the father of our late classmate. It was Voted, That the Secretary purchase two punch-bowls to replace the present unsightly ones.

Adjourned.

June 24, 1874. Holworthy 12. By the kindness of Mr. Walker Hartwell, of the Junior Class, the meeting was held in his room, Brother H. S. Huidekoper in the Chair. Present, Brothers Bartlett, Beard, Brigham, Edmands, Fiske, Goss, Grinnell, Hedge, Hudson, H. S. Huidekoper, Jeffries, Keegan, Mason, Nichols, Payson, Priest, Quincy, F. W. Rogers, Sibley, Tarbell, Ticknor, and Tucker. It was Voted, To print a Class Report next year, the expense to be charged to the income of the Class Fund. The Secretary called attention to the favorable position of the memorial slabs containing the names of the members of the Class who lost their lives in the war. The Class dined with the Alumni in the new Memorial Hall, which was used for the Commencement Dinner for the first time this year.

Adjourned.

BENJAMIN MAJOR DAVENPORT commenced the study of law in Eureka, Illinois. In March, 1863, he entered the office of Hon. E. Van Buren in Chicago. In March, 1865, he was admitted to the bar, and during the whole period of his Law studies in Chicago he "paid his own way" by practising before the Justices of the Peace and in the Police Courts. April, 1866, he went to Nebraska City, and entered into partnership with a young lawyer named Seymour, and practised profitably for three years, when he went into the Real Estate business. September 29, 1868, he married Ellen Campbell, daughter of Prof. James C. Campbell of Hopkinsville, Kentucky, the ceremony being performed in the Gothic Chapel in the Mammoth Cave. Since October, 1872, he has resided in Chicago. June 28, 1870, Benella was born. Davenport has lost a son and daughter. He has been since graduation a member of the Christian Church, has been ten years Sunday School Superintendent, and for the last eight years Elder or Deacon.

*ALBERT EDWIN DAVIS. Born December 23, 1839. Died January 19, 1869.

*JOHN RICHARD DENNETT, son of John Richard and Mary Dalton Dennett, was born November 5, 1838, at Chatham, a small town on the Miramichi River in New Brunswick. When he was four or five years old his family came to Massachusetts to live. They were shipwrecked on the way, which made the voyage memorable to Dennett, but no one was lost, and they finally settled in the town of Woburn.

Dennett was fitted for college in the Woburn High School. He came up to Cambridge having the advantage of being two or three years older than most of us, and having already laid the foundation of a wide and thorough knowledge of English literature. While in college he was an editor of the "Harvard Magazine" and an occasional contributor to it; he was also Class Poet. After graduation Dennett went almost at once to Beaufort, S. C., as a Superintendent of abandoned plantations, remaining there till March, 1864, when he came North and entered the Law School in Cambridge. In July, 1865, he undertook a journey through the Southern States as correspondent of "The Nation." After his return he was admitted to the bar in New York, but never practised in his profession, as he became almost at once an assistant editor of "The Nation." It is not too much to say of his contributions to this paper that they "from the very first, furnished one of its strongest claims to public approbation." In December, 1870, he was appointed Assistant Professor of Rhetoric in Harvard College. The work of this Chair involved a certain amount of drudgery which was distasteful to him, and he resigned it in 1872, going back to the "Nation" office again.

His health was broken even before he left Cambridge, but he continued to write up to the last month of his life. He died on the morning of the 26th of November, 1874, at Fay's house in Westborough. It is said that a volume of his writings is to be prepared as a memorial.

JOHN HOAG DILLINGHAM is still an honored professor in Haverford College, Montgomery Co., Penn. The present year he has been acting president. November 11, 1873, Anne Pim was born, and April 22, 1875, Lydia B. was born.

*HENRY HORTON McBURNEY was born in Roxbury, Mass., February 8, 1843; fitted for college at a private Latin school, under the instruction of Mr. A. H. Buck, and entered Harvard without conditions. During the second term, Sophomore, McBurney was stroke-oar in the Class boat, pulling that year in four races : one on the 17th of June, beating the " Union," six-oar, at Charlestown, in 14 minutes, 23 seconds, on a two-mile course ; one on the 4th of July, beating the " Freshman, '63," the " Shamrock," and others, on Charles River, in 19 minutes, 21 seconds, on a three-mile course ; and two at Worcester on the 24th and 25th of July, when the Class crew were victorious over the " Glyuna," the Yale Sophomore boat, the challenger, in 20 minutes, 14 seconds, in three miles the first day ; and over the " Glyuna " again, and the '63 boat, in 19 minutes, 44 seconds, on the same course, the second day.

At the end of the Junior year McBurney made a short trip to Europe, visiting Ireland, England, Switzerland, and Paris. At the end of the Senior year he was chosen our Chief-Marshal. In September, 1862, he went to Paris, and studied chemistry for one year with Wurtz, in the École de Médecine ; thence to Heidelberg, where he studied with Bunsen another year, returning to Boston in 1864. He then went into business with his father, Mr. Charles McBurney, until November, 1866, when he became a partner in the firm of Campbell, Whittier & Co., in this city.

He married Susan Sturgis of Roxbury, January 16, 1867. His children are, Mary, born October 26, 1867 ; Thomas Curtis, born October —, 1870, died September 29, 1874 ; Margaret, born September —, 1873. He resided in Roxbury from the time of his marriage until the autumn of 1869, when he moved to Pinckney Street, Boston. In the latter part of 1873 a serious affection of the lungs became developed, which rendered it necessary for him to repair to a milder climate, and he went to Nice, France, for the winter. The summer of 1874 was passed at Rome, and upon the occasion of the dedication of Memorial Hall, in June, he appeared with his classmates in the line of the procession. In December, 1874, after an unsatisfactory trip to the Island of Santa Cruz, he sailed again for England, and while staying at Bournemouth he passed away suddenly and unexpectedly, February 20, 1875.

BENJAMIN HOLT TICKNOR is in the house of J. R. Osgood & Co., Publishers, 131 Franklin Street, Boston.

FREDERIC WILLIAM TILTON succeeded Dr. Samuel H. Taylor as Principal of Phillips Academy, Andover, in 1871. In 1873 he was invited to the head-mastership of the Rogers School, in Newport, R. I., — a new institution founded from the endowment of the late William Sanford Rogers, of Boston. He resigned at Andover to accept this position, and entered upon his new duties in the autumn of 1873. February 29, 1872, Ellen Maud was born.

JABEZ NELSON TRASK married Lydia Maria Stratton at New Salem, Mass., July 16, 1873; started in April, 1871, for Los Pinos agency among the Utahs in Colorado. "Reached agency May 3, having stayed a few days at Lawrence, Kansas, and at Denver, Colorado. Agency over 8,000 feet (by estimation) above the sea, among Rocky Mountains, two hundred and forty miles southwest of Denver. Winter of 1871–72 very snowy and cold. Post-office forty-three miles distant. No mail at one time for six, and at one time for five weeks. Mercury near zero and below most of January, February, and March; 31° below zero one morning. Nearly two hundred cattle and three hundred sheep of Agency stock perished of cold and starvation. May and June brought down an inundating freshet on the rivers. War was rumored. I was mobbed at Saguache post-office in April. No war except in wishes of settlers. June 30 my time of service ended by transfer of property and duties to newly appointed successor, pet of territorial governor and territorial delegate to Congress. Left Agency July 6, 1872. Spent winter of 1872–73 at Cambridge.

"May 4, 1873, began to preach at West Cummington, Mass. Moved up with my mother May 23. Was ordained June 4. Married at New Salem, Mass., July 16, to Miss Lydia Maria Stratton of New Salem." Trask removed to New Salem in November, 1873.

JOHN HARVEY TREAT has privately printed, on his own press, several learned tracts of a polemic theological character, and also ancient inscriptions which he collected while abroad. June 19, 1875, he sailed for Europe as Assistant Engineer of the Palestine Exploration Expedition, to explore the region east of the Jordan.

EDWARD MORTON TUCKE was in Europe some ten months in 1873, and since his return has been secretary and treasurer of the Traders' and Mechanics' Insurance Company of Lowell. December 2, 1874, he married Katherine Parker of Lowell.

*JOHN HENRY TUCKER. Born February 19, 1835. Died May 27, 1863.

JOHN LANGDON WARD is practising law in New York, as at the date of the last Report. He has a son, Alexander Ladd, born January 21, 1874.

CHARLES PICKARD WARE gave up his school in Boston in the summer of 1872. Went to Europe in June, 1873, returning in October of the next year. He now resides in Milton.

WILLIAM TUCKER WASHBURN still practises law at the same office, 43 Wall Street, New York. A daughter, Nathalie, was born February 4, 1873.

JOHN EATON WHITING has not been heard from.

WILLIAM GRIGGS WILSON in 1864 took the degree of L L. B. at the Harvard Law School. February, 1865, removed to New York city and entered the law office of Marsh, Coe & Wallace as a student. In 1865 was admitted to the New York Bar. Since his admission he has been practising law, associated with his present partner, Mr. Hamilton Wallace, a graduate of Yale College.

April 29, 1869, he married Henrietta Crocheron, of New York. His children are Virginia Crocheron, born February, 1870; Margaret Chase, born March, 1871; Edward Chase, Jr., born September, 1873; Henrietta, born October, 1874. Wilson has been Judge Advocate in the first brigade of the New York National Guard, and since January, 1875, Major of the 12th Infantry, N. G. S. N. Y.

Of those not members of the Class throughout the course, but who have been accustomed to meet with us at Commencement, no one has felt more interest in the Class than Dr. William Francis Munroe. His death, under very sad circumstances, took place last month. Of the other associate members very little information has been obtained.

MEMBERS OF THE CLASS

DURING A PART OF THE COURSE.

Marcus Elmer Bennett in 1874 married at St. Luke's, Caterham Valley, Surrey, England, the distinguished pianist, Madame Madelaine Gertrude Schiller, and resides at present in Charles Street. Boston. For a time he was engaged in business in Foochow, China, and is now cashier of the Fourth National Bank of Boston.

William Andrews Browne, after severing his connection with the college, took up the study of medicine, taking his degree at the Harvard Medical School. He entered the medical department of the army, and was assigned to duty at the hospital connected with the camp in Readville. From 1865 to 1868 he practised in Boston. In the spring of 1868 he went to Vienna, where he remained until 1873. Last winter he spent in Florida.

Thaddeus Marshall Brooks Cross, 1863, has devoted his attention to nervous diseases, on which subject he has published various reports, etc. He practises in New York.

Oswald Herbert Ernst has two daughters: Helen Amory, born Sept. 1, 1867, and Elizabeth Lee, born Feb. 17, 1871. He is Captain in the Engineer Battalion U. S. A., and stationed at West Point.

Henry Barrett Going is married and has several children. He resides in Boston but is not in active business.

John Checkley Keighler is in business in Baltimore.

JOHN WITHERSPOON LABOUISSE served through the recent war in the Confederate Army. Married Miss Richardson of New Orleans, and is now in Europe.

WILLIAM EDWARD MARSH resides at Plainfield, New Jersey.

* WILLIAM FRANCIS MUNROE, although not a graduate of 1862, always retained his interest in the Class and often met with us at Commencement. In June, 1874, he became mentally deranged and was sent to the hospital at Worcester; he was afterwards removed to Dr. Howe's establishment at Pepperell. He was found drowned in a brook at this place May 9, 1875, and as he had been missing several days it is supposed that he died May 7.

GEORGE PERKINS served in the Northern Army during the Rebellion, and made an excellent record.

WINTHROP HENRY SARGENT married Miss Annie Rotch in Boston, Dec. 2, 1873.

CLASS MEETING, MARCH 10, 1862.

ROOM OF THE INSTITUTE OF 1770.

THE meeting for the election of class-officers was called to order at two o'clock in the afternoon of Monday, March 10, 1862, by Shepard Devereux Gilbert, who stated the object of the meeting and called for nominations for Chairman. Many were nominated and chosen, but all declined. Finally a vote was passed that the Chairman when elected should have the privilege of voting on all offices. Charles Brigham Stoddard of Plymouth was then elected and took the Chair. Joseph Sampson Reed, of Boston, was chosen Secretary.

Before commencing to ballot for officers it was determined to proceed in the order of election used in former years, and to take first an informal ballot on all occasions.

The Chairman stated that the first business in order was to take an informal ballot for Class Orator; the result was as follows:—

	Informal	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13
E. D. McCarthy	40	37	37	38	39	39	37	39	37	38	39	37	37	37
J. H. Dillingham	33	41	40	42	39	39	39	39	38	38	40	40	40	42
J. E. Hudson	6	5	5	3	5	6	6	6	6	6	4	3	4	4
G. E. Grinnell	5	1	2									1
G. A. Stone				1									1
Total	84	84	85	84	83	84	83	84	81	82	83	81	82	83

John Hoag Dillingham, having received a majority of the votes cast, was declared elected on the thirteenth ballot, and the meeting proceeded to ballot for Poet with the following result: —

	1	2	3	4
M. W. Hazeltine	39	41	40	40
J. R. Dennett	35	40	41	42
Scattering	6	3	2	1
Total	80	84	83	83

John Richard Dennett, of Woburn, having a majority of the votes cast, was declared elected.

The Class now proceeded to ballot for Odist. The vote stood, E. D. Lindsey, 57; N. A. Prentiss, 22; Scattering, 5, — and Edward Delano Lindsey of Cambridge was declared elected.

The next business in order was the election of Chief Marshal. The formal ballot resulted as follows: H. H. McBurney, 55; W. Hedge, 15; H. P. Quincy, 13; Scattering, 1, — and Henry Horton McBurney, of Boston, was declared elected.

The results of the formal ballots for First Assistant Marshal were as follows: —

W. H. Chadbourn	33	38	40
H. P. Quincy	32	35	38
W. Hedge	8	3
J. Read	7	5	1
Scattering	1
Total	81	81	79

And William Hobbs Chadbourn, of Boston, was declared elected.

The ballots for Second Assistant Marshal resulted as follows: —

H. P. Quincy	39	44
E. C. Bowman	24	23
J. Read	16	9
Scattering	3	1
Total	82	77

And Henry Parker Quincy, of Dedham, was elected.

The next business in order was the election of Chaplain, an informal ballot showed the wish of the Class so distinctly that Edwin Augustus Lecompte was unanimously chosen by acclamation. The meeting then adjourned until the next morning.

On the morning of March 11, the meeting was called to order by the Chairman, who stated that one more vote had been cast in the final ballot for Orator than the number of persons present competent to vote authorized, and he declared Mr. Dillingham's election null and void. After a long and spirited discussion, several Seniors being absent who voted the day before, the decision of the Chair was sustained by a bare majority. After five unsuccessful ballotings for Orator, the meeting adjourned until two o'clock, P. M.

In the afternoon it was moved to vote viva voce by calling the roll: carried by a slight majority. After an informal ballot Mr. McCarthy withdrew his name, making a speech on the occasion. The result of the first formal ballot gave C. E. Grinnell 44; J. H. Dillingham 34; Scattering 1. Charles Edward Grinnell, of Baltimore, was declared elected, and on motion of Wm. T. Brigham the election was made unanimous.

The Chairman of the Class Day Committee was then balloted for, with the following result on the second ballot: H. U. Jeffries, 40; A. Reed, 37; Scattering, 2, — and Henry Upham Jeffries, of Boston, was declared elected on the committee. After two ballotings for each, Arthur Reed, of Boston, was elected by 52 out of 67 votes, and Charles Brigham Stoddard by 44 out of 66 votes. The meeting then adjourned until half-past seven o'clock in the evening.

In the evening the first officer balloted for was Class Secretary. On an informal ballot William Tufts Brigham, of Boston, had 54 votes, 18 scattering, and was then elected by unanimous acclamation.

For Class Committee, on the second ballot G. E. Chapman had 40 votes, W. Hedge, 31, — and George Edwin Chapman, of Cambridge, was declared elected, and by vote the election was made unanimous. The next ballot gave William Hedge, of Plymouth, 38 out of 74 ballots, and his election was made unanimous.

For Chorister, Charles Burnham Porter, of Rutland, Vt., had 39 out of 73 votes, and his election was made unanimous.

For President of the Class Supper, Charles Boyden, of Cambridge, had 45 out of 66 votes, and by motion his election was made unanimous.

For Chairman of the Class Supper Committee, on the fourth ballot S. D. Gilbert had 38 and J. Read 36 votes: Shepard Devereux Gilbert, of Cambridge, was elected. On the next ballot John Read, of Cambridge, received 40 out of 74 votes, and both elections were made unanimous.

For Class Supper Chorister, Charles Jerome Coleman, of Cincinnati, received 51 out of 71 votes, and his election was made unanimous.

For Class Supper Odist, Nathaniel Appleton Prentiss, of West Cambridge, had 37 out of 64 votes, and his election was made unanimous.

For Class Supper Chronicler, on the fifth ballot M. R. Ballou, of Boston, had 32 votes, C. C. Soule, 30, — and Murray Roberts Ballou was declared elected.

For Toast Master, Henry Munroe Rogers, of Boston, received 35 out of 64 votes, and his election was made unanimous. The meeting then adjourned until half-past two o'clock, P. M., on Wednesday.

On Wednesday the subject of the Class Song was brought up, and Messrs. Boyden, J. Read, T. L. Chadbourne, Porter, and Coleman were appointed in accordance with a vote of the class to select suitable music. Another committee was appointed to act with this committee in selecting words.

W. T. Brigham, in accordance with the usual custom, moved that $62.00 be appropriated for a Class Cradle. After several amendments were rejected, the original motion was passed. It was voted that a committee of three be appointed by the Chair, to prepare and publish suitable resolutions on the death of President C. C. Felton. In accordance with the vote, Messrs. Soule, Hazelton, and A. Reed were appointed. Notice was then taken of the death of Mr. Levi Parsons Homer, late Instructor in Music; and Messrs. T. L. Chadbourne, Read, and Brigham were appointed to prepare and publish suitable resolutions.

After votes of thanks to the presiding officers, a motion to adjourn was carried; and thus ended on the third day this meeting of the Class of 1862.

SENIOR CLASS SUPPER.

OCEAN HOUSE, CHELSEA BEACH, June 6, 1872.

The Committee performed their duties well, and about eight o'clock three omnibuses started from the rear of Holworthy for Chelsea Beach. Owing to some unpleasant recollections of our Sophomore Class Supper, a few classmates remained at home ; fifty-three went, and until they arrived on the beach enjoyed a pleasant moonlight ride. Two omnibuses were driven along with the wheels of one side in the ocean, but the other, following a more inland path, stuck fast in the sand, and the unfortunate occupants were obliged to walk through sand and water half a mile to the hotel.

There all troubles ceased, and after several propositions of sea-baths, to which those who had waded through water on their way raised some opposition, a few departed to the bowling-alley, others to the billiard-room, while some remained in the parlors singing and dancing.

Between ten and eleven o'clock supper was announced. The tables were arranged in the U form. At the head sat the President, Committee, Chorister, and Secretary ; at the foot the Chronicler and Toast Master. The walls were decorated with flags and the Class monogram, and the table with flowers.

The President opened the Supper with a short speech ; at a quarter before one the Chronicles were called for, and for more than half an hour the Class enjoyed the sharp hits and witty allusions of that important document. The history of the Class was well illustrated by the originality and ingenuity of the "college scrapes," which no class has ever surpassed, few have equalled. From the morning on which '62 appeared on the chapel window, to the horror of the Faculty, the astonishment of the Freshmen, and the amusement and admiration of the older classes, until it was again inscribed in more durable characters on the highest chimney of old University, the Class were always ready to resist tyranny, real or imaginary, and astonish the college. Strange and marvellous were the prophecies with which the Chronicler concluded : some of them, may Heaven avert from the parties interested !

The Ode was then sung, and the Toast Master proposed "The Class" : responded to by Brother Washburn. To "Our first scholar" (Brother Hudson being absent), Brother Chapman responded, giving some interesting statistics of the Class.

"The Class began in September, 1858, with 109 members. The largest number ever in the Class at one time was 112, at the beginning of the Sophomore year, — 19 persons having joined and 16 having left the Class. At the beginning of the Junior year the number was 101, — 2 having rejoined and 13 left. At the beginning of the Senior year the number was 95, — 2 having rejoined and 8 left. During the Senior year, 5 have left the Class, leaving 90 who expect degrees.

The whole number ever connected with the Class is 128. Of the 38 who have left, 2 have died, — Lewis Tillman Carter, at Troy, N. Y., May 16, 1859, and Francis Lowell Gardner, of Boston, at Cotuit Port, Marshpee, Feb. 10, 1861. Seven have entered the army, 6 have joined '63, 1 has joined '64, 3 living in the South have gone home, 1 is studying law, and 18 are scattered in different places, most of them engaged in business.

Eighteen of the Class live in Boston, 8 in Cambridge, 44 in other parts of Massachusetts, 5 in Maine, 2 each in New Hampshire, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Maryland, and Missouri, 1 each in Vermont, New York, Wisconsin, North Carolina, and Kentucky. Live in Massachusetts, 70; elsewhere, 20. The birthplaces of 86 have been obtained, viz. in Boston 28, Cambridge 6, other parts of Massachusetts 31, Maine 4, New York 3, New Hampshire, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Maryland, and Missouri 2 each, Vermont, Ohio, Alabama, and New Brunswick, 1 each. Born in Massachusetts, 65; elsewhere, 21.

The measurements for '62 are not complete: some were not here, and some were too lazy to be measured. But those whose measurements were not obtained could not much affect the general average; and if even they should fall a little below it, they would hardly make up for the loss of those who have entered the army. The heights are exclusive of boot-heels and the weights exclusive of coats.

From the average age of the three Classes, it seems that Young America is steadily declining.

There have been three boat-clubs in the Class of '62, — the Haidee, the Ottawa, and the Enid; having together 48 members. On the water, the Class has never been beaten. In June and July, 1860, the Class-boat was successful in four races, and the Harvard crew, containing two members of the Class, took four first prizes. In 1861 boating was swallowed up by the war. This year, Harvard is to contend with Yale, on the 4th of July, when '62 has its last chance. Before the foot-ball was buried, the Class was successful in seven out of twelve match games.

Forty-six members of the class were old enough to vote at the last election; 74 will be old enough to vote at the next election.

The Rank List has never smiled on '62. The position of the Class on this Roll of Honor may be due to an immutable zigzag law, alternately raising and lowering the rank of classes, as was suggested by some kind friends of '61, or it may be due to some inherent peculiarities.

In music, however, the Class has excelled. Almost from the beginning of the course, it has given a strong support to the Glee Club and the Pierian Sodality, and has furnished sixteen members to the College Choir.

Seven of the Class have entered the army, one has served for three months, and one who will receive a degree is now recruiting a company.

Brothers Soule, Lindsey, Brigham, and McBurney responded to the remaining regular toasts. Brothers Coleman, Parker, Sargent, and Beard also made remarks.

Some time before prayers the next morning the first omnibus returned to Harvard, and the Class of '62, although sleepy, maintained its dignity in the sight of Faculty and Students.
